1. The land east of the plant site colored as commercial will have a future land use of agricultural. I have a problem categorizing agricultural land the same as residential. For residential there may be children playing sometimes in dirt. This is not the case for agricultural land. Adults may till soil during spring planting but after that the soil is typically not disturbed and there is usually no children playing in fields.
2. NONE
3. The map appears to be consistent with current land uses and zoning classifications. 27 State St. is zoned business but is owned/operated as a church affiliated use. Label this as "public/institutional".
4. Being that the canal is potential host to contaminant and just the sheer fact of proximity, I feel that the study should go as far west as Carmen Road. The study does further North/South, than it does East/West. I strongly believe that the study should really give equal research to both areas - it is only fair!
5. The property west of North Hartland in Tributary #1 (Jeddo Creek) is outside of the Village of Middleport. Lots of old willow trees, etc. They have lots of old branches and limbs broken and rotten. The children have paths for 3 & 4 wheelers and they climb the trees. Lots of animal life, rodents, waterfowl and migrating birds. Some hunting in the area.
6. Development in the area of Culvert 105 is slow. The village of Middleport sewage treatment plant may need more storage for future expansion?
